

Let me see that!

Children and the Internet DVD's in 2008

Technology Education Standard 5:

Key Idea: Technology can have positive and negative impacts on individuals, society and the environment. Humans have the capability and responsibility to constrain or promote technological development.

Computer Technology Standard 5:

Key Idea: Computers, as tools for design, modeling, information processing, communication, and system control, have greatly increased human productivity and knowledge.

Health, Physical Education, Family and Consumer Services

A Safe and Healthy Environment Standard 2:

Students will acquire the knowledge and ability necessary to create and maintain a safe and healthy environment.

Catalog Number: DVD421

Title: How to be a Cyber Surfer

Imprint: Chip Taylor, 2001.

Physical Description: DVD Video Disc, 15 min.

Summary: Cyber Surfer Dude and his Cyber Surfer Sister take kids through the basics of using the Internet, answer frequently asked questions, and provide tips for safe and happy surfing. In each segment the two surfers and a cast of friends perform amusing skits to help children understand the dos and don'ts of surfing the Internet.

Audience: Primary, Intermediate, Junior High

NEW

Catalog Number: DA418

Title: Dogzilla vs the Internet 1

Imprint: Chip Taylor, 2006.

Physical Description: DVD, 30 min.

Summary: Internet Speed - How to get the fastest Internet connection, and some tips for impatient surfers using slower computers; Museums on the Net - Many of the world's best museums and galleries are now online, and they do encourage browsing; Misinformation - The difference between fact and fiction on the Internet. Music on the net - How use the Internet to listen to radio stations from all over the world. Viruses— How to prevent viruses from messing up your computer, or getting on it in the first place; also how to get help for your infected computer.

Audience: Primary, Intermediate, Junior High

NEW

Catalog Number: DVD414

Title: Dogzilla vs the Internet 2

Imprint: Chip Taylor, 2001.

Physical Description: DVD, 30 min.

Summary: Sports on the Net - How to find practical, usable information, tips and statistics for all your favorite sports, sports teams, and leagues; Acronyms & Symbols - The more time you spend online, the shorter your vocabulary seems to get: TTYL (Talk To You Later); Web Pages - Once you become confident surfing the Internet, why not try creating your own Web page? DIY (Do It Yourself) Web site, using text and graphics; E-mail - How and what you need to get your own e-mail address; also e-mail options and dealing with junk mail; Homework - A look at your best options for researching homework and projects on the Internet.

Audience: Primary, Intermediate, Junior High

NEW

Catalog Number: DVD415

Title: Dogzilla vs the Internet 3

Imprint: Chip Taylor, 2001.

Physical Description: DVD, 30 min.

Summary: Video on the Net - The world of moving pictures on the Internet, and how to set your computer for maximum enjoyment; Photos as JPEGs - How to save pictures as JPEGs or GIFs, and the easiest way to send pictures and photos to your friends and family; Printing - Trying to make the Internet look as good on paper as it does on your monitor, including tips and suggestions for printing; Chat Rooms - Chat Rooms are quickly becoming the new telephone for young people; so you'll want to know how to use them smartly and safely; Games on the Net - A look at the vast variety of gaming opportunities available on the Internet, and you can play against the computer, against yourself, or against your friends - all online.

Audience: Intermediate, Junior High

NEW

Catalog Number: DVD416

Title: Dogzilla vs the Internet 4

NEW

Imprint: Chip Taylor, 2001.

Physical Description: DVD, 25 min.

Summary: Safety & Security - How to deal with problems you may encounter on the Internet - it's better to be safe than sorry; Search Engines - A look at the best way to use search engines to find whatever you are seeking; Copyright - The rules and regulations concerning copyright on the Internet, how to protect your work, and how to go about using someone else's work; Forums - A focus on forums, the hidden gem of information on the World Wide Web; New for Kids - An exploration of the many ways kids can surf "kid-friendly" news on the Internet.

Audience: Primary, Intermediate, Junior High

Catalog Number: DS1694

Title: Child Safety: It's No Accident

Imprint: Janson Media, 1998.

Physical Description: Digital Video Stream, 55 min.

Summary: Reviews tips on how to be safe while staying home alone, riding on bikes and in cars, connecting to strangers on the Internet, living in a home with guns, and much more.

Audience: Junior High, Senior High

Catalog Number: PR21 (Preview)

Title: Cyberstalking & Bullying

NEW

Imprint: New Dimension Media, 2006.

Physical Description: Preview Title, DVD, 20 min.

Summary: Teaching segments on how to cope with and prevent bullying and the danger from cyberstalkers.

Audience: Intermediate, Junior High, Senior High

Catalog Number: DA421

Title: Growing up Online

NEW

Imprint: WMHT, 2008.

Physical Description: DVD, 60 min.

Summary: In Growing up Online, FRONTLINE takes viewers inside the very public private worlds that kids are creating online, raising important questions about how the Internet is transforming childhood.

Audience: College, Adult

Catalog Number: PRE39

Title: CyberEthics (being considered for purchase)

PREVIEW

Imprint: Cambridge, 2008.

Physical Description: DVD, 14 min., Closed Captioned.

Summary: Most people learn traditional standards of behavior and respect for others by the time they are teenagers but many don't realize that those rules are just as valid in cyberspace. This program helps students take the high road on the information superhighway and avoid the temptations of the fast lane, pointing the way toward an ethically sound Internet presence and lifestyle. Guidelines for the use of intellectual property are featured, with emphasis on the consequences of illegal downloading, copyright infringement, and plagiarism. Pornography, gaming sites, chat rooms, and online social networks are also discussed, helping viewers steer clear of antisocial and abusive activities, especially cyber-bullying. Comments from experts, as well as questions from peers who are confused about the fine points of cyber legality, serve to clarify central ethical principles.

Audience: Senior High, College

PREVIEW

Catalog Number: PRE38

Title: Information literacy: the perils of online research (being considered for purchase)

Imprint: Cambridge, 2006.

Physical Description: DVD, 21 min., closed captioned.

Summary: In a world of information overload, information literacy has become a survival skill. But what exactly does information literacy mean? With a focus on the Internet, this video explains how to conduct solid online research by collecting information in an organized, efficient, and ethical way. Professor Maurita Holland of the University of Michigan School of Information provides expert commentary and guidance on a range of research activities, including evaluating the credibility of Web content, documenting online sources, and paraphrasing not copying the words of others. Additionally, a high school teacher and a graduate student demonstrate real-world examples to reinforce the challenges and rewards of online research. The consequences of plagiarism and shaky facts are emphasized.

Audience: Junior High, Senior High

WEB SITES FOR COMPUTER USERS

Growing up Online On PBS stations, January 22, 2008, 9pm. FRONTLINE producer Rachel Dretzin investigates the risks, realities, and misconceptions of teenage self expression on the web.

<http://www.pbs.org/wqhb/pages/frontline/kidsonline/>

SafeKids.Com

A guide for families for "making the Internet and technology fun, safe and productive." Features articles and information on online safety for parents and children, covering topics such as computer security, chat rooms, spyware, cell phones, and more. Includes the

<http://www.safekids.com/>

NetSmartz Workshop: Keeping Kids and Teens Safe on the Internet

This site "uses age-appropriate, 3-D activities to teach children how to stay safer on the Internet." Features online and "offline" activities, safety pledges, news, safety tips, and statistics. Topics include social networking sites, passwords, computer viruses, email, file sharing, and more. From the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and National Boys and Girls Clubs of America.

<http://www.netsmartz.org>

CyberSmart! Curriculum

This site was "developed to encourage the effective use of the Internet as a learning resource and to ensure the safety and security of students in cyberspace." Curriculum units cover topics related to safety (for example, chat and e-mail), manners (including computer ethics), advertising, research, and technology. Includes links to related Web resources.

From the CyberSmart! School Program and Macmillan/McGraw-Hill.

<http://www.cybersmartcurriculum.org/>

Order resources by phone (464-5104), by fax (464-5101)

NEW URL

Http://media.capregbooces.org

Linda Fox, Program Manager

Capital Region BOCES Instructional Media Services

Suite 102, 900 Watervliet Shaker Road

Albany, NY 12205